National Security Professional Development (NSPD)

Established in May 2007 by Executive Order 13434

“Forging Interagency Collaboration”

National Security Professionals in the Federal government are those personnel in positions responsible for developing strategies, creating plans to implement, and executing common missions in support of U.S. national security objectives.

For more information visit the DoD NSPD website at:

What's Next for NSPD?

- National Security Strategy...
- On-line course, "National Security Objectives, Structures, and Processes: An Introduction"
- NSPD Interagency Website
- National Security Professionals: Forming an Interagency Community – a DoD sponsored symposium

NSPD Symposium

NSPs: Forming an Interagency Community

- August 4-5, 2010 – Save the date
- National Defense University, Washington, DC

- NSPs will:
 - Gain an appreciation and understanding of partnering agency cultures
 - Recognize the importance of, and learn strategies to build and develop networks across the interagency. Challenges and obstacles that hinder effective collaboration are better understood
 - Form interagency alliances
 - Understand parochialism and bureaucratic behaviors that hinder mission accomplishment

DOD NSPD Implementation Office

- Who:

- Karen Spracher – Branch Chief
- Jimmie Vaughn – Strategic Comms, Legislative, Human Capital
- Tasha Tillman – Instructional Systems Design
- Juan Jackson – HR Advisor
- Mayra Giron – HR and Tech Support

- Primary Functions:

- Lead NSPD implementation efforts
- Promote the education, training, and experience of current and future NSPs
- Support the DoD Components in providing support, policy, and guidance required to develop an NSP workforce

DoD NSPD Governance

Upcoming Items for the DoD ESC

- Revitalized NSPD program and IPC way ahead
- Redefining roles and relationships
- Potential “re-scoping” NSP positions
- Back brief on Curriculum Working Group progress towards defining certificate levels
- Personnel policy and tracking

Next Steps

- What changes would you like to see in NSPD?
- How can we increase program awareness?
- How can we make NSPD more relevant to YOU?

Thank You
