Throughout August, September, and October, Field Advisory Services conducted a series of live Webinars on the HR Professional Career Framework (HRPCF) that included a complete demo of the web site. The Webinars were a huge success. Thank you to all who participated. If you're not familiar with the HRPCF, the HRPCF is a tool and guide that will help HR professionals drive their own career development. The HRPCF supports more empowered and focused careers and opportunities for HR professionals.

CPMS developed the HRPCF to support the changing tactical and strategic roles of the civilian HR business advisor serving in a rapidly changing and challenging strategic environment. It offers a vision of the emerging roles and competencies required to deliver quality HR support and advice today and into the future.

For those of you who would like to participate in a Webinar and learn more about the HRPCF, we've decided to continue with the Webinar series at the start of the New Year. The schedule is below. Please click on the registration link below or visit <http://www.cpms.osd.mil/fas/hrpcf/> and click on Hot Topics to register for a session.

If the dates and times below don't work for you, or if you are interested in scheduling a private session for your office, please contact Johnny McLean for arrangements at: Johnny.McLean@cpms.osd.mil.

To learn more about the HRPCF visit the website at: <http://www.cpms.osd.mil/fas/hrpcf/>.
